Another Rose Ambler Mystery. WESTPORT (Conn.), October 28th.-Much excit ent has been caused throughout the State by th discovery of the mutilated body of Mrs. Julia Godfrey, near this place, under circumstances which may make the case almost as interesting, if not as famous, as the crimes which ended in the unavenged deaths of Mary Stannard, Jennie Cramer and Rose Ambler. This time the victim is a young married woman of Saugatuck, pretty and accomplished, and popular with a large circle of acquaintances. Gossip has trifled with her good name, and there have been not infrequent rumors that her husband had reasons for jealousy, and that her home life was not happy. Edward Godfrey is one of the best-known residents of Saugatuck. He has lived in the place all his life.

Ten years the senior of his wife, their tastes in many mored that King Luis, of covery of the mutilated body of Mrs. Julia Go Ten years the senior of his wife, their tastes in many ways have been marked by dissimilarity. The young wife was full of life and animation. She cared more for social pleasures than for the dull routine of home duty, and it was not unusual that while the husband remained at home at night to care for the family, the wife was enjoying the fascinations of so re rural ballroom. A week ago, it is reported, there was a bitter quarrel in the Godfrey household, and the husband is said to have told his wife that she must reform or leave his house. A party of gunners yesterday found her body half buried in the mud on the Saugatuck marshes, half a mile from the Westport station. The police then went in search of the delinquent and fugitive tram-car conductor, but in a short time the body of Lacy began to show signs of life, and in the course of half an hour the man was so far recovered as to be able to walk to the police station. A medical examination proved that he was not seriously hurt, and that his temporary coma was due solely to liquor. When, however, it is remembered that Chicago is rather a roughly-paved city, it may be permissible to favor the hypothesis that the "chucking off" car platform into the street may have had something to do with the temporary suspension of vitality in the case of Lacy. His striking experience of his icy couch in the Chicago dead-house should certainly induce Mr. Lacy to "swear off" from all fermented beverages for the remainder of his natural life. - [London Telegraph.

A petition has been forwarded to Adjutant-General Cosby, asking to have this company mustered into service, and, if is this done, Sacramento will have a splendid battalion. There are in the new company many practiced artillerymen. There are ample accommodations in the armory for two more companies, and all of the companies of the regiment would practically be together, with the exception of Company C, Captain J. A. Rapp commanding, of Nevada City. If the application is approved the capital of the State will be enabled to make a better showing with its local military than it has for many years—a matter for congratulation. The brigade review, dress parade and annual ball of the regiment has been postponed until Wednesday evening, November 7th, as Major-General Turnbull and staff cannot be here on the 2d. The event is already a success, socially and financially, as the best citizens of the city have taken hold of the matter, showing that the regiment has been gainhere on the 2d. METROPOLITAN THEATER. - Several hun-

ing Sunday evening at home or in church, and went to the theater last evening. They placed high upon a peg the religious teachings of youth and all reflections upon the possible example of their mature act, and sat the evening out over an Irish comedy. Sunday night, as a rule, is bad for "shows" in Sacramento, and this community has been rather proud of the fact than otherwise. That last night proved a signal and rather aston-ishing exception Dion Boucicault can attribute as complimentary to his art and the skill of his company. Certainly his opening of an engagement, however brief, on Sunday so subscribed to the said Augustus L. Rhodes Edward J. Pringle, Julius Buhlert and Mil night in Sacramento cannot be considered a complimentary to the community, which in the past has shown such an aversion to Sunday night dramatic performances. But an audience that filled the theater gave FUNERAL OF MR. McCLATCHY. — The character, for once at least. The "Shaughof Boucicault's best; but while it is replete with amusing and strange, and sometimes startling, situations, it has not the dramatic or literary merit of more than one of his earlier Irish dramas. But it is a popular play of that order, and is presented by a com-pany of average merit, without any especially brilliant lights. The leading ladies of the company in personal attractiveness are especially noticeable, and Miss Carey gives special evidence of ability for better dramatic to win the plaudits and sincere commenda-tions of his auditors. There can be no ques-tion as to his skill in such roles, nor as to his profound knowledge of the effective in dramatic art. The details of his plays and his acting are like those of the perfect Thomas. Mrs. Carter sang, as a recessional selection, "Flee, as a Bird." OPPORTUNITY SALE

MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS.

TO-DAY (Monday), October 29th, we will commence the sale of MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, which, for attractiveness in prices and assortment of stock, will equal, if not excel, any of our previous efforts. This stock was purchased together with the BANK-RUPT STOOK OF CLOTHING (the sale of which has just closed), but being too varied and large, we reserved the FUBNISHING GOODS for a later date. We are now ready, and can truthfully state that the opportunity now offered is a rare one, and, like its predecessors, should not fail to fill our stores with purchasers. The greater part of this stock being "JOB LOTS," they will be offered at prices to correspond.

realizes that to make home happy there must be a "GAR-LAND" RANGE in it, and why?

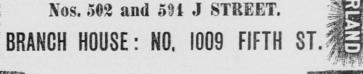

First-Because it burns the least wood. Second-It bakes the quickest.

Third-It is the most beautiful range in the market.
